

NATIVE YOUTH WELLNESS

Objective The RMTEC Native Youth Wellness Program Request for Applications (RFA) encourages the use of American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) traditional, cultural, and regional knowledge in developing, implementing, and/or supporting childhood overweight and obesity education, prevention, and management initiatives amongst Tribal communities.

Number of Awards 2

Funding Amount Up to $20,000.00

Eligibility Requirements Tribal diabetes programs in the Montana and Wyoming region who have participated in the Child Health Measures project during FY2017 and FY2018

Important Dates

- RFA release date: February 4, 2019
- Funding application deadline: Friday, March 29, 2019
- Award notification: Friday, March 15th, 2019
- Award period: Sunday, March 31st, 2019 – Monday, May 29th, 2020
- Grantee orientation: TBD, Early April 2019
- Grant awarded: Two disbursements of $10,000.00

Purpose

The Rocky Mountain Tribal Leaders Council Epidemiology Center (RMTEC) would like to announce a Request for Applications (RFA) to address childhood overweight and obesity in Tribal communities. Established in 1996 as the public health center for the Rocky Mountain Tribal Leaders Council, the mission of RMTEC is to empower American Indian Nations and urban Indian populations by building community-driven public health and epidemiological capacity through outreach and creative partnerships.

Please contact Jordyn Learman

Jordyn.learman@rmtlc.org

406-252-2550 ext. 131